

Prestige Architects

“We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act, but a habit”

– Aristotle

Marco Braghiroli is an Italian architect from Milan and the founder and managing director of Prestige Architects Ltd, specialising in the high-end residential projects. Based in London, Prestige works with clients in the UK and abroad, creating some of the most beautiful living spaces, through a combination of traditional, contemporary and modern design based on the specific client requirements. Winners of several industry awards with multiple short-listings for international design awards, it's not hard to see why.

Our Passion

Prestige Architects' work is driven by a passion for architecture as Marco comment; “Our passion is to turn your vision into your reality. We work with private clients who always bring their personal input into the creative process, developing a sense of excitement around the unique design and build of a residence or a luxurious holiday home.

Such a project is extremely subjective and needs to be tailored to the lifestyle and taste of our client. Many of our clients come back time and time again, having enjoyed the creative journey we have taken them on and been astounded by the end result.

As an architect, I have to put aside the ‘architect ego’ and take my client through the whole creative design process, which is incredibly personal to them. This doesn't mean that we lose control of the design, quite the contrary in fact, this collaboration drives forward the design experience, ensuring our client gets the perfect design and build to the highest quality.”

About Prestige

This renowned London-based architectural practice has been actively working on high-end residential projects since 2009. Its reputation for the creation and completion of quality residential projects is of the highest standards.

The extensive experience of working on high end residential projects in both the UK and abroad means that Marco brings about a unique blend of Italian design with quality British delivery every time.

The key to the success of Prestige is the level of expertise from a solid team of experienced consultants coupled with the exacting level of detail applied to each project. This combination of innovation and design excellence has led to international awards success and many industry short-listings.

Most of the business generated at Prestige is from repeat clients, who commission projects abroad to follow on from their UK residence experience, these could be holiday homes or second residential properties. Recent projects consist of a chalet in Switzerland, with more to follow, a house refurbishment in the USA, bespoke yacht design in Asia and a luxury villa development in Zanzibar. ■ 2 Magistrate House, Market Place, London TW8 8FJ; email: marco@prestige.eu.com www.prestige.eu.com